Note to Applicants:

Media covering the CCCB annual Plenary should be aware that there is a system in place for requesting interviews with a Bishop. All applicants must submit their request(s) to staff of the Communications Service prior to the event, clearly indicating the purpose of the coverage. Please provide the name of the Bishop or Archbishop you would like to interview and the topic of the interview.

We reserve the right to accept or deny interview requests

Please do not approach the Bishops during coffee breaks or meals, since many Bishops often use this time for business. There will be locations provided for TV, radio and print interviews. Access to the media room is strictly reserved for Bishops and the CCCB staff. A room with computers and web access is reserved for the media.

Upon registration at the Plenary, please be prepared to present a press card.

If a press conference is held, members of the media will be informed of the regulations of the conference prior to the event.

All accredited media are required to abide by these regulations or risk losing their credentials.

The CCCB reserves the right to deny accreditation, to refuse entry to any media professional and to revoke accreditation at any time.
